Autumn Weekend La Touraine 27th-29th September 2019

May 15th, 2019

Dear Golfers,

No sooner are we back from our Spring outing to Dieppe than news comes of our Autumn golf weekend.

This year we are proposing to go to the Golf de Touraine and I'm pleased to say that we've been given a 30% reduction on the green fees, which means a total for the three days of 127 euros. This includes the cost of managing the Saturday score cards. Buggies come in at 35 euros.

The dates for this weekend are 27/28/29 September – one week later than has sometimes been the case because the Golf de Touraine is holding its Grand Prix over the previous weekend. This should mean that we'll enjoy a course in exceptional condition. As Tours is hosting its marathon over our chosen weekend, all the big hotels (Mercure, Ibis, etc.) are full, which may be a blessing in disguise as we've reserved rooms in a "hotel de charme", the Haut des Lys in Villandry, 6.8 kms from the golf course, so only 10-15 minutes at the most. For non-golfers the chateaux de la Loire are obviously on the spot or within very easy reach.

The cost of the rooms at the hotel is 95 euros per single (instead of 109) and 109 for a double (instead of 128). Breakfast is 10 euros (instead of 14). The hotel is obviously fully equipped, with a bar which, I can assure you, meets all our usual requirements; also we would be offered an aperitif de bienvenue. Dinner, including a ½ bottle of wine, will come in at 27/28 euros.

Allowing for around 20 euros for lunch at the golf club, plus 200 euros for the two nights at the hotel, the total for the weekend would come to some 460 euros all in – including the golf of course.

I know it's still early days, but positive and prompt replies to this mail would be much appreciated, together with your cheque for 115 / 100 euros per golfer / non-golfer respectively as a deposit and weekend competition fees.

Best wishes to you all,

James Moore
